Test Booklet

INSTRUCTIONS :

"This test consists of 70 items related to your behaviour. After reading each statement think whether it is applicable on you or to what extent it is applicable on you. If a statement is very much applicable on you then tick (✓) mark in the column 'very much' in front of the serial number of the statement. Thus, there are five alternative responses or extents. Tick mark only below one response extent column which is most applicable on you only in the answer sheet. Please do not write anything on the test paper. Please respond to all the statements do not leave any".
